Gambles sources fresh produce globally to resell to Canadian and American customers. The primary sourcing countries are Canada, the US, Mexico, Peru, Chile, Italy, Spain, South Africa, other South American countries, Greece, and Holland.

Offshore vendors must arrange sea or air transportation to North American ports. For example, Chilean grape suppliers arrange sea transport from Chile to the US port of Wilmington, Pennsylvania. Vendors are responsible for transportation logistics, including the Bill of Lading, Confirmation of Sale (COS), Certificate of Insurance (COI), and other administrative tasks.

Upon arrival at a North American port, Gambles takes over inland transportation. For sea freight, Gambles arranges transport from the port to one of Gambles facilities. Air shipments are handled by Gambles to the Toronto Airport (YYZ), where Gambles then arranges local pickup.
